Seized for Undervaluation By the U.S. Government And Purchased By Us at the U.S. Marshal's Sale

James Black & Co., of Belfast, are among the largest manufacturers of fine plain and fancy linens in Ireland; and their goods come to many of the best stores in America.

But this firm got into difficulties with the United States Gov-ernment on some very large shipments intended for these stores. The goods were seized for undervaluation, and sold for the amount of the customs duties upon them by the United States Marshal. This happened last week, and Gimbel Brothers were the purchasers. And tomorrow we shall offer the entire purchase
